Una película de suspenso acerca de los oscuros y peligrosos secretos que comparten Simón, un niño de 12 años, su nuevo profesor de educación física y el rector del colegio, un sacerdote católico.

Simón (Kevin Towers) , un solitario niño que ha perdido a su padre en un trágico accidente, descubre las verdaderas intenciones del nuevo y misterioso profesor de educación física Mario (Gavo Figueira), quien se ha involucrado sentimentalmente con su hermosa mamá, Sarah (Claudia Cadavid), todo bajo la mirada indiscreta del sacerdote rector del colegio (Julio Sastoque).

En una salida del colegio en la que Mario desaparece misteriosamente, Simón y sus amigos, accidentalmente observan una misa negra y encuentran un medallón que pertenece a un grupo de satánicos. Los niños deciden guardar el medallón, y esto trae nefastas consecuencias para todos.

Simon, a lonely boy who has lost his father in a car accident, has to face rising conflicts when Mario, the new and mysterious school teacher, starts dating Sarah, his beautiful mother. Simon doesn't accept the new father figure and discovers Mario's real intentions while struggling with his own fears and the indiscreet look of a nosy Catholic priest. On a school trip, Mario disappears mysteriously, leaving Simon and his friends alone in the woods. While wandering around, the boys witness a black mass and pick up an enigmatic medallion. When Mario realizes the boys found the medallion, he wants to recover it, bringing deadly consequences for all. Simon tries to warn his mother, but Sarah is in love and rejects any accusation.

It is only when the connections between Satanism, pedophilia and Mario's past are revealed and Sarah is tricked into leaving Simon at home alone that she realizes the danger she has put her son in. But... is it too late? Or will Sarah be back on time to protect her son?
